

DIVIDE THE RIDE – A CARPOOLING CONNECTION

In an attempt to help our families save money while still being able to spend days at Hunt Hill, we've created an organization account on the website: www.dividetheride.com. To learn exactly how Hunt Hill is using Divide the Ride to connect families, contact Nikki at program@hunthill.org or 715 635 6543.

Divide the Ride uses interactive maps to display where families attending Hunt Hill summer day camps live in proximity to one another and Hunt Hill Audubon Sanctuary. Only the families who choose to sign up will be added to the Divide the Ride database. Once added, all participants receive email updates announcing who's been added.

On the email, there will be a picture displaying the addresses of Hunt Hill Summer Camp families. By simply rolling your cursor over a house (similar to the picture on the right) and clicking the 'Contact Parent' link, you'll be able to send an email to the person of your choice and if you choose, arrange a carpool.

Hunt Hill does not guarantee the safety of carpooling through Divide the Ride, but can verify that:

1. The only people, who have access to your information, are those who sign up their children for HH day camps AND have requested their information be added to the database.
2. It is each individual's responsibility to verify the reliability and safety of the families they choose to carpool with.
3. There are no fees associated with HH's divide the ride program. However, families that carpool together may choose to work out reimbursement on their own.

If you would like to be added to our Divide the Ride database and have the opportunity to save money and help other families, fill out the form below and mail it back with the registration and medical forms. Thank you.
